

Untitled Document

A newly classified weed was found in two nature reserves along the Moreleta Spruit.

The first plant was spotted at the Faerie Glen Nature Reserve by Louise Kritzinger from Friends of

During a routine alien vegetation survey at the Moreleta Res as 2016, several plants were noted. In

Chinese hollygrape can be identified by its bright yellow flowers

Photo: Directorate: Biological Invasions, SANBI

According to Thulisile P Jaca, Directorate: Biological Invasions (DBI), South African National Biodiversity Institute (SANBI) in Species, Chinese Hollygrape is listed in South Africa. It

Some species in the Berberidaceae family are already naturalised and have the potential to be inv

Chinese hollygrape is a shrub or small tree with bright yellow flowers that can be observed from a